A Tree That Weeps.

During the driest months of the Rhododendron year—August, September and October, a tree called by the natives Mukololo, exudes moisture in large drops from its topmost leaves, and gives the traveler who happens to be standing in the immediate vicinity the impression that a shower of rain is falling. When the natives see one of these trees dripping, they say: "The Mukololo is weeping for rain." Even during the hottest day the tree weeps copiously.—Strand.

TAX-FERRETING PLAN ACCEPTED BY "CITY DADS"

VOTE TO CONTRACT WITH WORKMAN & HIGGS ON PERCENTAGE BASIS.

AUTO FOR THE FIRE CHIEF

Authorized After Some Discussion—$55 Rubber Boot Item Caused Comment—Gypsy Ordinance Passed—Brick Paving Not Approved.

Unless the mayor refuses to affix his signature or some other unlooked-for contingency arises to prevent it, Workman & Higgs, tax shenks, will establish headquarters at the city hall within the next thirty days and commence the fulfillment of their promise to place upon the local tax roll some $2,000,000 in foreign mortgages, notes, stocks, bonds, and other money credits which have been, up to this time, beyond the reach and geographical jurisdiction of the Janesville assessors. The law permits the collection of delinquent taxes for a period of three years back and Joseph B. Workman declared at the council meeting held two weeks ago that his firm, if given the contract, would bring $2,000 in back taxes to the city treasury within a period of ten days and over $50,000 in the course of a few months. In support of his prediction he cited one local real estate dealer who is said to have $150,000 invested at nine percent in Oklahoma.

Under the terms of the contract drawn up by City Attorney Maxfield and which the council has evening directed the Mayor and city clerk to sign, Workman & Higgs are to be retained for a period of three years. They will be concerned only with foreign credits and will receive 33 1/3 percent of all delinquent taxes, actually turned into the treasury and not paid under protest. In any litigation that may arise from any action brought by any taxpayer touching the validity of the city's contract with them for furnishing the evidence and assisting in the collection of delinquent tribute, they agree to assist the city attorney in conducting the defense. Any given negotiator's property is to be subject to the agreement but once and all records are to be left with the city at the expiration of the contract.

City Attorney Maxfield filed an opinion regarding the power of the city to become party to an arrangement of this nature. While the supreme court of Wisconsin had not passed upon the question, the weight of authorities, he declared, favored contracts of this nature even in states where conditions and the laws were not as favorable as in this state. In his opinion the council had both an implied and inherent right to make this employment and to take other steps necessary for the collection and protection of the city's revenues, particularly when it does not delegate to outside parties any duties, powers, or responsibilities which properly belong to a city official and his office. If for no other reason than that the public policy, he believed, that the supreme court would sustain such a contract as the one in prospect. To act otherwise would be to place a premium on false holding property and an incentive to securities beyond the reach of local assessors, thereby reducing the revenue to which a municipality is entitled.

During the recess the aldermen engaged in a lengthy discussion of the matter with Supervisor of Assessments Frank P. Starr who strongly favored the plan, the City Attorney, and Mr. Workman. Mr. Maxfield had made some inquiries and had received excellent endorsements of Workman & Higgs from the Indiana state authorities.

Alderman Evans was absent from the council meeting. Immediately after the recess Alderman Hucholz asked to be excused. Mayor Carle urged him to remain until the vote should be taken on the Workman & Higgs proposition but inasmuch as this involved the reading of the opinion and proposed contract and perhaps some debate, the alderman from the Second ward could not see his way clear to comply.

The motion directing the mayor and clerk to sign the contract was offered by Alderman Dullin. Owing to the absence of Alderman Evans and Hucholz, Alderman Brown moved that consideration be delayed two weeks. Mayor Carle also counseled delay. "If we're going to have this sort of dodging, is there any certainty of a full meeting next time," queried Alderman Dullin. The motion to postpone consideration was lost. The motion calling upon the mayor and clerk to sign the contract was carried by a vote of 6 to 2. Aldermen Donahoe, Dullin, Lowell, Hucholz, Scott, and Sheridan voting in the affirmative and Aldermen Brown and Hall voting the negative protest.

Pavement Not Approved.

Contractor Graham of the Gund-Graham Co. was busy answering questions during the recess. The Mayor and aldermen wanted to know why the brick between the street car tracks on South Main street suddenly heaved up on Sunday. The street assessment committee which inspected the paving work Saturday had been ready to submit a favorable report and recommend the payment of the balance due the contractors, when it became known that there was a big bulge all along the car line. The consensus of official opinion seemed to be that the blocks laid nearest the rails were not adapted to the purpose and were not laid right. Mr. Graham thought that was a matter which concerned only his firm and the Street Car Co. but the City Fathers thought otherwise. The work will have to be done over again before any final settlement with the city is forthcoming.

Traction Co. Rebuked. Also, the city is not satisfied with the Janesville Traction Co.'s manner of juggling with the brick pavement where the new shanties are being installed on West Milwaukee street. An order directing the said company to alter its patchwork and re-lay the pavement in its original condition within three days and comply.

HIGH REVELRY OF YOUNG FOLKS KEPT POLICE VERY BUSY

Young People of City Out in Large Number on Halloween and Some Damage to Property Was Done.

A beautiful autumn evening proved an ideal time for the revels of Halloween and boys and girls of all ages and sizes were out. On the east side of the river they seemed to be merely indulging in innocent pranks, but on the west side their work was of a more destructive nature. Three special men were added to the police force, Verno Murdock assisting John Brown in answering calls in the chief's office, John Crow working on the east side, and Ed. Hallen on the west side. They, together with Chief of Police Appley, who used a rig, to prevent damage to property on the east side of the river and Officer Fleming, who did the same work on the west side of the river, were kept as busy as they could be all evening, answering the calls sent in, and keeping the gangs on the move. Thirty-nine telephone calls were attended to besides the extra work in driving through the wards. "Two catches were brought to the station and the names of twenty others were handed in.

Old traditions were sustained when about eleven o'clock the steps at the old laboratory, now used as a tobacco warehouse, at the corner of Cherry and Pleasant streets were tipped over. The steps are heavy and a good-sized gang was required to do the work. A gang was kept on the place all evening, but while the watchers were away the trick was accomplished.

Wooden aprons and gutter plates at the street crossings were turned over throughout the city but could be replaced today. Where the gangs seemed to be most numerous was in the First ward. At the home of George Phillips on West Bluff street an outside stairway was torn down. The names of the boys who did it were learned and their parents agreed to pay the damages. The steps in front of Harry Maxfield's residence were pulled down and in front of the home of Harry W. McNamara a sidewalk was torn up, so that when Mr. McNamara returned home he was thrown from his wheel and sustained slight bruises. Officer Hallen caught a youth named Johnson, who is attending the high school here, just after the young man had tipped over an outbuilding at the home of Mrs. O'Rourke, corner of Palm and Hay streets, and took him to the station. The lad was later released on his promise to settle for the damages done.

On the Dodge street side of Mayor Carle's store, barrels of salt were rolled into the gutter and a broken-down buggy put in their place. Rosealing Bros. reported the loss of a barrel of vinegar which had been left outside their grocery store and which a gang of boys from Monterey had made away with. A warrant will probably be issued for one of the number, who was recognized. A call was received that a crowd of young people were raising havoc in the Fourth ward near the Webster school. The chief investigated and found a crowd of about fifteen girls and four boys, ranging in age from 1 to 20 years, whose chief offense seemed to be that they were making the night hideous with their noises. On the east side of the river the steps were pulled down from the home of Mrs. Mungler on Clark street. Officer Jim Dorn pursued a gang of about thirty youths who were pulling a wagon up North First street, but he was sighted by the young men and they took refuge in flight.

MAYFLOWER MASCOT IS LOST

Mrs. Roosevelt's Gift to Crew of President's Yacht Is Missing, but Not as Deserter.

New York.—There is sorrow on board the U. S. S. Mayflower, known as the president's yacht, which is being overhauled at the Brooklyn navy yard. Spike, the Mayflower's mascot, is missing, and it is feared that either he has been stolen or has met some evil companions. He has not yet overstayed his shore leave to the point where he can be termed a deserter, but the master at arms will take him in charge wherever he is found.

Spike is the bulldog presented to the crew by Mrs. Roosevelt. He is rated the ship's champion swimmer and is entitled to medals for life saving. On two occasions he saved the lives of men who fell overboard.

In a notice sent out by the crew offering a reward for his return, Spike is described as being "all bulldog, weight about fifty pounds, head about seventeen inches above the ground. He is black and white and has one black ear."

Conan Doyle told of an experience which he had when leaving school. His teacher must have been one of those noble old Romans such as Thackeray describes as roaring at young Pundennia when the major, his uncle, called to take the boy away. When Conan Doyle had finished his course in school the head master called him aside and, after saying him in measured tones as follows: "Doyle, I have known you now for seven years, and I know you thoroughly. I am going to say something which you will remember in after life. Doyle, you will never come to any good!"—Bookman.

ASCENDS 9,714 FEET IN AIR FLIGHT

JOHNSTONE BREAKS WORLD'S ALTITUDE RECORD AT CLOSE OF AVIATION MEET.

IS WINNER OF $2,000 PRIZE

Lack of Fuel Prevents Daring Aviator Going Still Higher—Mooseman Captures Another Prize—Englishman Falls in Speed Event.

New York, Nov. 1.—The international aviation meet was brought to a close in a blaze of glory when Ralph Johnstone, flying in a Wright "Baby" biplane, a craft which he drove for the first time in his aerial flights, broke the world's altitude record by ascending to a height of 9,714 feet.

For his daringly spectacular feat he received a prize of $2,000. If he had been able to soar just 287 feet higher he would have won an additional prize of $5,000 offered on the condition that the altitude record be over 10,000 feet. He was prevented from reaching this height because his machine would not climb any more on account of lack of fuel. The previous record was 9,185 feet.

Out of Sight an Hour. It took Johnstone about one hour and twenty-six minutes to reach his highest point in the sky. For an hour he was utterly beyond the sight of the naked eye. He made his descent from the perilous height of almost two miles in the air in less than six minutes.

A great air race from Belmont Park around the Statue of Liberty in New York bay and return for a lot of $10,000 a side probably will result from a challenge issued by Claude Grahame-White to John B. Moisant. The challenge is the result of Sunday's race over the course in which Moisant defeated the Englishman by forty-three seconds.

Grahame-White issued the formal challenge and the Chicago aviator said he would accept it.

Moisant, flying the Morio in which he captured the Statue of Liberty prize, won the Aero Club of America's distance prize of $2,000. In two hours he made the course fifty-six times, a total distance of about eighty-seven and one-half miles.

Moisant made a sensational landing in front of the grand stand, smashing his propeller and breaking one wheel of his monoplane. He climbed out of the machine, however, uninjured. Latham was second in the race with thirty-five laps and Simon third with twenty-seven laps to his credit.

Just as Moisant came down Grahame-White ascended in his Farman biplane in an exhibition flight.

Englishman Has Bad Fall. Grahame-White, who was flying in the speed race against McCurdy, overturned in front of the grand stand and was buried under the machine. Helpers lifted the machine off him and he walked out limping slightly, waving his hand to the crowd to let them know he was not seriously injured. His machine was damaged.

Dinner for Famous Flyers. A group of men who have made themselves famous in the field of aeronautics within the last fortnight assembled last night in the banquet room of the Hotel Plaza as the guests of the Aero Club of America. The dinner was the closing function of the international aviation meet.

Among those who sat at the head table were Walter Wellman, who made the courageous attempt to fly across the Atlantic in his dirigible, America; Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, winners of the international balloon race in their America II; Claude Grahame-White, winner for England of the international aviation prize, and Moisant, who won the $10,000 Ryan prize.

Texas Farmer Shoots Woman When She Calls at His Door.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 1.—Lula Williams, aged twenty-five, daughter of T. L. Williams, a farmer living six miles north of Arlington, was shot and killed by R. H. Bates, a farmer, aged forty, in front of Bates' home. Bates said that he was called to the door, and after a pistol shot had been fired at him he seized a shotgun and fired into the darkness. There was no outcry, although he discerned a fleeing figure. An hour later the woman was found dead in front of the gate. She was dressed in a man's overcoat and cap. Bates is under arrest.

U. S. DIRECTORY SHOWS USE OF WIRELESS WIDE

More Than 1,500 Stations Are Maintained on Land and American Vessels.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Some idea of the extent to which wireless telegraphy is now utilized can be gleaned from the government's wireless directory just published.

In this directory, perhaps the most extensive in existence, are listed 1,520 stations. This includes shore stations and ships, but does not take into consideration warships of foreign governments, nor the hundreds of stations equipped and operated by amateurs, which are the cause of considerable annoyance to regular stations.

The directory is the work of the bureau of steam engineering of the United States navy. It is most comprehensive. First are listed the wireless telegraph stations throughout the world, according to country, giving call letters, wave length, power, range and character of station.

There are about 700 shore stations scattered about the globe. Eighty-eight are on the Atlantic and gulf coasts of the United States, three in the interior, forty-eight on the great lakes, fifty-one on the Pacific coast and sixteen in Alaska.

A separate list shows the forty-seven shore stations of the United States navy and another the 344 ships of the navy.

In the list of merchant vessels, such as steamships, tugs, yachts, etc., 821 stations are listed. The vessels' call letters and owners and the apparatus' wave lengths, power and range in miles are noted. These vessels are scattered over the entire world.

MANY HURT IN LABOR RIOTS.

One Man is Drowned, Another Dying. Result of Chicago Strikes.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—One man dead, one man dying and a number of strikers slugged marked the spread of labor wars in Chicago.

In one instance a man was thrown into the lake during a struggle and was drowned.

In another case a union garment worker was stabbed six times by a man said to be an employee of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, against whose forty-eight shops a strike is now in progress. He is at the Englewood Union hospital in a dying condition.

The sluggings occurred during parades of striking workmen and women.

A number of small riots occurred in the downtown district and in several instances marchers were dispersed by mounted police.

The strike of the garment workers in Chicago, which now involves 40,000, was spread to the suburbs. In shops operated by Hart, Schaffner & Marx in Lyons and Riverdale workers were prepared to join the union and it was estimated if they walked out the number of strikers would reach 60,000.

While the large manufacturers are still continuing to wage the fight, the smaller firms are accepting the terms of the union. Twelve concerns already have agreed to the scale, and in those shops the strikers have returned to work.

KOREAN MISSIONS CELEBRATE.

Foreign Board of Methodist Church Seek to Raise $300,000.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of its mission in Korea. This celebration began today and will continue for several months.

The first Methodist mission in Korea was founded through a gift from John F. Goucher, late president of Goucher college. During the twenty-five years of its existence it has grown until now there is an annual conference with seven conference districts with 34 ordained ministers and 21 probationers, 50,000 members, probationers and inquirers, and 6,000 boys and girls in Methodist Episcopal schools. Besides this, the medical work embraces treatment of 20,000 annually.

The practical side of the Korea quarter-centennial celebration will be the raising of $300,000 in extra special gifts for the augmenting of missionary work in Korea. The raising of this money is under the direction of a committee authorized by the general conference and the general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church.

TAX-FERRETING PLAN ACCEPTED BY "CITY DADS"

manding the street commissioner, in default thereof, to do the work and charge the cost to the said company, was passed by unanimous vote.

Other Highway Matters.

G. D. Cannon's proposals, specifications, contract, and bond for improving South Bluff street, Oakland Ave., and Fifth Ave., with a combined cement curb and gutter at 18 cents per lineal foot were accepted on recommendation of the street assessment committee. Favorable action was also taken on the same committee's reports of the cost of improving Sinclair, South Second, and South Third streets. Notices of election to pay at once the assessments for work on those thoroughfares were received, and to meet the obligations where property owners had not elected to pay at once, the council authorized the issue of special six per cent improvement bonds to cover the following amounts: Sinclair street, $487,531; South Third street, $554,116; South Second street, $1,112,041. The bonds are to be in denominations of $100 as near as may be and the mayor and clerk are to sell to the highest bidder.

The clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $312,332, payable to the Gund-Graham Co. from the Third ward fund in full settlement for of the amount due from that source for improving Sinclair street, South Third street, from Jackson to Sinclair, and South Second street from East to Jackson and from Jackson to Sinclair.

The treasurer was directed to transfer the sum of $1,300.87 from the Third ward fund to the general fund to reimburse the city for crushed stone for the use of the road roller and the cost of inspection incident to the improvement of Sinclair, South Second, and South Third streets.

An order was passed directing the city clerk to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $2,000, payable to the Gund-Graham Co. in partial settlement for the brick paving work on South Main street.

W. E. Dullin, superintendent of the stone crusher, reported the following deliveries of material during the two weeks ending Oct. 29: to Gund-Graham Co. for South Main St., 177,444 min. SL, 550 yards. The report was made at 5:50 yards. The report was accepted.

1911 Sewer Construction.

A schedule showing the approximate amounts which would be required for sewer construction purposes for the coming year, in addition to the amounts raised by special assessments, was submitted by the street assessment committee and adopted. The council directed the levy and collection of the following tribute on all property subject to taxation in the various localities: Districts 3 and 4 one mill on the dollar; Dist. 5 one quarter of a mill on the dollar; Dist. 11, one-half mill on the dollar; Dist. 16, five mills on the dollar.

Matters of Finance. The finance committee's reports on bills and the salary list were adopted. The budget of 1911 contained an item of $56.75 for rubber boots sold by D. J. Luby for Spring Brook bridge-building operations. Ald. Sheridan wanted to know what had become of these boots, stating that he had heard that they left town in a box car. In his opinion Contractor Cullen ought to have been made to return them for he took his departure.

The mayor was directed to borrow $500 and place the same to the credit of the fire and water fund.

The clerk was directed to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $527.38, payable from the fire and water fund to the Milwaukee Elevator Co. for 1,517 bushels of oats at 34 cents a bushel.

The officer was also directed to draw on the treasurer in the sum of $2.17 payable to E. G. Hallen, John Crows and Vernon Murdock for services as special policemen on Halloween—the appointments by the Mayor having previously been confirmed.

Further time was granted to the judiciary committee for consideration of the notice of Arthur E. Badger's judgment for $107.50 (together with interest and costs and disbursements) against the city for services on the board of review.

The annual report of the Janesville public library received and placed on file.

Auto For Fire Dept.

Alderman Lowell introduced an order directing the purchasing committee to buy for use of the chief of the fire department at a cost of not to exceed $1,500, a motor-driven runabout which will carry a chemical engine and other fire-fighting apparatus. All of the aldermen seemed to favor this investment but a question was immediately raised as to whether or not the purchase should or could be ordered when the necessary money was not in the fund. Alderman Lowell said that if the order were placed now three months would have to elapse before a delivery could be expected and the fund would be replenished from the tax levy by that time. Ald. Sheridan said that the motor car was included in the estimate on which the appropriation for the fire department had been based. City Attorney Maxfield held that the car could be purchased with money from the general fund. The motion was carried 6 to 2. Aldermen Brown and Hall voting in the negative.

The Midland Lumber Co. petitioned for permission to replace a shed in the northwest corner of its yard with a structure 100 feet long and 12 feet high to be covered with fire-proof roofing and to make other alterations. The matter was referred to the fire and water committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

Further time was granted to the committee for consideration of a communication from the Rock County Telephone Co. regarding the proposed raising of telephone wires in the business district.

Gypsy Measure Passed.

Alderman Hall called for a third reading of his ordinance prohibiting Gypsies from camping or cooking meals on the public highways within the corporate limits of the city under a penalty of from $10. to $100 and moved that it be placed on passage. The measure was adopted 6 to 2. Aldermen Scott and Sheridan voting "No."

Miscellaneous Business. The payment of $22 to McVicar Bros. for installing service pipes to the property of Minnie Jones Bradley and Mary C. Patton on East street was authorized and the parties benefited were debited with $10 and $12 respectively.

Further time was again granted the license committee for consideration of F. O. Ambrose's application for a plumber's license.

Street Commissioner Proctor was directed by order to flush the sanitary sewers, under the direction of the city engineer, clean catch basins and flush the storm sewers needing such attention; clean all eading covered gutters in the Third ward where necessary; and build the following brick crosswalks: across Walker St. on the west side of Caroline St.; across Prospect Ave. on the east side of East St. North; across Union St. on the west side of North River St.; across Grand Ave. on the east side of Center Ave.; across Eastern Ave. on the east side of McKay boulevard; across Court St. on the East side of Garfield Ave.; across Park St. on the north side of St. Lawrence Ave.; across Garfield Ave. at the intersection of South Third St.; across South Washington St. on the north side of Galeana St.; and across Galeana St. on the east side of Washington St.

The last two crosswalks occasioned a rather sharp discussion. Ald. Brown said that he had understood that the Mayor and others had requested that no expenditures be made from the Fifth ward fund until the Center Avenue injunction should be dissolved. Ald. Dullin expressed himself forcibly. City Attorney Maxfield said the injunction covered only Center Ave. The order carried, all voting "aye."

SAYS WORLD IS GOING MAD

So Declares Dr. Forbes Winslow, Expert on Criminal Lunacy, in Recent Publication.

London.—According to Dr. Forbes Winslow, who acquired international celebrity by his adroit insistence on his theory that "Jack the Ripper" was a homicidal maniac, the world is going mad.

Dr. Winslow considers that the rate of progress to that consummation is shockingly rapid. In a book of reminiscences this expert in criminal lunacy says:

"By a simple arithmetical calculation it can be shown the exact year when there will be more insane persons in the world than sane. We in England are gradually approaching, with the decadence of our youth, near proximity to a nation of madmen. "By comparing the lunacy statistics of 1860 with those of 1900, four decades having intervened, my reflections are sad indeed. A terrible but real curse is in store, and an insane world seems to me a certainty in the not far distant future."

"In 1860, out of a population of 22,223,299, there were 53,177 registered lunatics in England and Wales, there being one lunatic in every 418 of total population, whereas in 1900, out of a population of 35,766,615, the number of registered lunatics was 128,787, making on an average one lunatic in every 278 of population. So that in forty years an enormous increase in lunacy is seen. Surely a dreadful future for nations still unborn to have to cope with."

"These are the facts, and sad to reflect upon. They must be accepted. They cannot in any way be challenged."

Dr. Winslow's phraseology is sometimes unhappy, as when he writes, for instance:

"I have breathed the atmosphere of lunacy for over sixty years, and the conclusions I arrive at are pessimistic in the extreme."

HEART IS ON RIGHT SIDE

Woman Defying All Conventions of Nature by Living With Organ on Wrong Side.

London.—A woman patient at St. Mary's hospital is defying all the conventions of nature by living comfortably with her heart on the right side of her body.

The condition was discovered accidentally on her applying at the hospital for treatment for dizziness. On examination it was found that she was suffering from a large aneurism of the main vessel leading from the heart, as well as a smaller aneurism of the carotid artery of the neck. To determine the extent of the aneurism in the chest an X-ray photograph was taken, which showed that the heart, instead of being in its normal position, was on the right side of the body.

Over the usual heart area, where ordinarily one can see and feel the heart beat, there is perfect resonance on percussion (tapping with the fingers), showing that instead of solid heart substance underlying the lungs have filled up the heart's accustomed space. On the right side of the breast bone, just where the X-ray photograph shows the heart to be, the heart beat is plainly visible.

The curious feature of the case is that although the patient was treated for an aneurism twenty-five years ago, the displacement of the heart was only discovered recently. Despite the grave nature of her arterial disease, the patient has enjoyed ordinary good health most of her life, and is in no way affected by the fact that her heart is in a different position from that of ordinary mortals.

PUBLICITY AND CRIME.

So much is said nowadays about what a newspaper ought or ought not to print, especially concerning crime, that it is interesting to note the opinion of State's Attorney John E. Wayman, of Chicago. Mr. Wayman addressed the members of the Inland Daily Press association, a few days ago, on newspaper influence in the conduct of criminal investigations and publications of crime. After defining what is meant by publicity and crime, he said in part:

"The publication of crime by the newspaper does more to prevent crime than all the agencies of government. Of course, as to whether a newspaper should publish all the harrowing details of a crime is a matter of taste and not a matter of substance. But I do not know upon what theory the argument proceeds that the newspaper should suppress the publication of crime or a series of crimes.

"The argument is made that the publication of crime hurts the city, but the publication does not hurt the city as much as the crime does. All these violations of law must ultimately be corrected by the public, and the suppression of information from the public strikes me as being as foolish as to suppress from the doctor the symptoms by which he can diagnose the complaint. And this publication not only tends to prevent additional crime, but is of the greatest aid to the officials in at once detecting the perpetrator.

"Many a man would beat his wife if he were not afraid of the newspapers. Many a man is willing to be found in the police court, and pay the fine, provided he can get through under an assumed name so that the newspapers cannot publish the fact. Many a man about to go wrong has hesitated and paused for fear the newspapers would get it.

try and for the administration of law when the newspapers fail to expose, and expose fully, the commission of every crime."

CONSERVATION OF MEN.

The question of conservation is attracting much attention these days and the value of natural resources as well as the necessity for protecting them has taken on new significance. While so much thought and attention is being given to material things, it occurred to Ralph C. Richards, general claim agent for the Chicago & North-western road, to address the employees of that great railway system, on the conservation of men.

This address covers every feature in the operating department and is issued in a little pamphlet of about one hundred pages. The statistics which he uses are taken from the Interstate Commerce Commission, and have to do with employees. They show that during the past decade 608,325 railroad men were injured and 94,390 killed, a larger number than were killed in the Union army during the Civil war.

The significant feature of this appalling casualty list is, that a great majority of the deaths and accidents were caused by individual carelessness, and so Mr. Richards urges the men to greater care in the little details of their work.

He uses as an object lesson the fact that his company has on an average ten rail accidents a month, where men are injured by stepping on a rail carelessly exposed by some man throwing a plank down, wrong side up. This was only one of a hundred causes for accidents which might be avoided with a little care.

What is true of the railroads is true to a lesser extent of the industries, but even in this channel men are being killed or maimed by the score every day. This fact is fully appreciated by a little band of philanthropic men who are conducting in New York what is known as the American Museum of Safety. A circular just issued entitled "Needless Waste of Men," shows what is being done. The work is most commendable, and entitled to every encouragement, as will be seen by the following outline:

"Fifty per cent of the accidents in American industry are preventable, in the claim of the American Museum of Safety. In proof of this, it has just opened a permanent exposition of safety devices in the Engineering Societies' Building, New York, to show how the dangerous parts of machines and processes may be protected, so as to save the lives and limbs of the workmen. It thus becomes a clearing house for every worthy device and every worthy thought concerning safety. It is its purpose to place this new museum idea on the highest plane, namely the realization of the greatest ideal regarding conservation—the conservation of human life.

"The exposition consists of machines in actual operation, models and photographs of safety devices for circular saws and planers, presses and grinding machines, safety exit doors and fire escapes; respirators and helmets for supplying pure air; elevators, safety lamps, and containers for gasoline and other volatile liquids; textiles, the building trades, transportation, quarrying, the chemical industries and wood-working contain their appropriate safeguards.

"I'm in trouble," said a pale and worried employer who called at the museum. "I've just lost one of my best workmen, through an accident on our circular saw. The wood he'd been working on was so badly that he'd only a few minutes. 'What can you show me in the way of a safety device?' Such problems as this arise every day in industrial life and clearly prove the necessity and value of a clearing house of practical information, where employers and workmen alike may go for advice and practical help."

The Chicago Inter Ocean has had a special correspondent in Wisconsin, writing up the political history of the state. His findings are interesting reading matter, even to men on the ground who have watched the destruction of the machine, and the establishment of the steam roller.

Public sentiment is divided in regard to employing outside talent to unearth taxes on what is known as intangible property. If, as is claimed, the city has been defrauded out of $50,000, many people claim that the regular assessors should be able to find it.

The Laramie trial in Chicago seems no nearer solution than when it started, six months ago. When the courts got through with the case the people will take it up and their verdict will be right. Political corruption in Illinois has become a byword.

The candidates for state office on the republican ticket in Wisconsin are devoting time and energy to denouncing Judge Hancock for attorney general. A queer campaign.

The street work for the year is rapidly nearing completion, and the city will go into the winter with a better street equipment than at any time in its history.

Some birds their harpstrings deftly strike, and sing of roses and the like; of coral isles and starlit seas and birds whose plumage glows like the sun in the breeze, but when I sing at close of day, my song is of a babe of hay. O woe!

drous bale, that takes me back across the years—on dreamy-track to sunny fields where strong men wrought—the fields that Ilders never sought. With wringing raiment on their backs they shaped their windrows and their stacks; I see and hear it all again, the cheery voices of the men, the thrifty with uplifted jugs, the horse striding in their tugs, the mower's clanking, rancorous roar, the glad march home when day was o'er. And when the hay was cured and bright, and aptly named the mule's delight, they fed it to the press and made the bale for which my harp is played. Each handful of this fragrant hay suggests a long, long summer day—honest, who productive toil, of wrestling with the parent soil. No dreamers made this bulky bale; no trifling men or poets said; no loafers placed the wire around, no lily-fingers raked the ground, but men of might were there that day, and wrought to build that bale of hay. And so with fitting roundelay do I enshrine the bale of hay.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TO THE WOMAN OF THE HOUSE.

Tired and fagged? Been a hard day for you? And you are envying the wives of the rich, who are not obliged to work? Woman, you know not what you do, because those same women, as a class, are the most dissatisfied, restless and unhappy women in the world. It is so because they try to feed themselves on the shells rather than on the kernels of life. Big houses, sumptuous furnishings, automobiles, costly gowns and jewels—these are not indices of happiness. You, madam, live in a cozy cottage and do your own work, or maybe you have one domestic helper. You do a thousand things in a day. But you have the joy of doing things.

Your rich woman regards home much as a hotel—a place of transient lodging, a point of departure. Her husband is the man who signs the big checks and whom she meets once a week at Sunday dinner. Her children—if any—are creatures to be turned over to a nurse. She is—

Idle—but bound to fashion. Free—but bound to fashion. Consider again: When the rich woman gets a new gown it means little to her. She is used to expensive garments. She has about as much thrill over something new as a wooden doll. But you, madam, the gown or cloak you buy out of your savings or the slim purse of your good husband—why, it is a triumph of good management, long desired, the fruition of many hopes. The joy of earning, managing, contriving and succeeding never comes to the rich woman.

And that overcoat for husband, or the boy's new suit, or the hat for the girl—trifles? To the rich, yes. To you? To you they are epochs in the family life, occasions of satisfaction. You see, Mrs.—

There is a profusion of things that become commonplace because of repetition, and there is a scarcity that makes for variety and pleasure. Now—

Start with this matter of clothes—so dear to every feminine soul—and figure out how many countless joys and sources of pleasure exist in your life which the rich man's wife can never know. Yes, you are tired with the day's work and worry, but really, now—Are you envious? Would you trade?

New York Republican Committee Issue Circular Calling Attention of Voters to Significance and Importance of Approaching Election.

Washington Nov. 1.—James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, has been ordered to Ohio to assist in the republican campaign in that state, making the fourth member of the cabinet in the Buckeye state. Secretary Wilson will speak in several rural districts the latter part of the week.

Points to Election's Importance.

New York, Nov. 1.—In a circular to voters the republican campaign committee here calls attention to the approaching election as "the most important of year election in a decade." The contest is of national rather than of local importance, it is declared, because of the fact that the complexion of both houses of congress is in the balance. Practically the whole of the house of representatives is to be selected, while the results of the votes for state legislators will indicate the division of the parties in the senate. Thirty senators will complete their terms March 2, 1911—twenty-four republicans and six democrats.

Full Tickets in Twenty-Eight States. Full state tickets, including governors, are to be chosen in twenty-eight states. Indiana will elect state officers with the exception of governor. Arkansas and Georgia have chosen their state tickets, but will vote for congressmen November 8.

Maryland, Mississippi, Virginia and West Virginia, which have no state officials to select, will turn all their attention to their representatives in congress, and in West Virginia to the legislature as well. Alabama, Maryland and Vermont have selected their senators.

The prohibition party has candidates on the ballots in twenty-five states, while the socialists are in the field in thirty-four states. Woman suffrage will be considered in four states.

U. S. TO PAROLE CARTER AIDS.

Board Will Recommend Freedom for Gaynor and Greene.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—Messrs. Gaynor and Greene, who are now serving sentences in the Atlanta federal prison for complicity with Capt. Oberlin Carter of the United States engineer corps in the Savannah harbor frauds, by which the government was defrauded of large sums, will probably be free in a few days. The parole board, created at the recent session of congress, will meet here next week, and it is stated that Greene and Gaynor will both be recommended for parole.

Greene and Gaynor have good records and have served well over one-third of their sentences. They were given four years each and their time is up next February.

Greene and Gaynor were contractors to whom Carter gave the largest contracts for the Savannah harbor work.

PLAN MEMORIAL TO DOLLIVER.

Fort Dodge Citizens Offer Park to Be Named After Late Senator.

Fort Dodge, Nov. 1.—Citizens of this city have started a movement to erect a memorial to the late Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver. A. R. Loomis and E. G. Larson, two of the wealthiest men in the city, have offered to donate nearly 100 acres of land along the Des Moines river to be named Dolliver park. A shaft probably will be erected here.

Death for Bacteria. Bacteria that survive in sunlight are killed by the ultra-violet rays from mercury-vapor lamps with quartz tubes. Two French investigators report that the killing is not due to the formation of hydrogen peroxide or other chemical poison, but to the direct action of ultra-violet rays of extremely short wave-length. Such rays, abundant in artificial light from the quartz lamps near at hand, are filtered from sunlight by passage through the atmosphere.

Kindness. Surely the world grows kinder, and if kinder, better, as the years multiply. The "drop of the cross" sign is more sparingly used, and the grim gates of hell which formerly shut out the poor from light and air are opening rapidly. ## MANY PARTIES HELD ON ALL HALLOWE'EN

Young People Celebrated the Mystic Rites and Enjoyed Themselves in Various Ways Last Night.

All Halloween was enjoyed last evening by many of the young people of the city with delightful parties at which the tricks handed down from the days of the Druids and the spirits of Erin were played, games, dancing and other good times. Master Wilfred Hodson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hodson, entertained some forty little people at a genuine Halloween party last evening at his parents' home at the corner of East and South Second streets. Games and a good time generally was enjoyed by the invited guests.

Margaret Haubacher, of 533 Home Park avenue, was surprised by some twenty of her little friends and games, bobbing for apples and a delicious supper was enjoyed by all.

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, their ladies and invited guests, spent last evening very enjoyably at a dancing party given in Assembly hall. About one hundred couples attended the affair. The decorations of the hall were in keeping with the season of the year, consisting of branches of bright autumn leaves and corn stalks showing the ripened ears. The Knott and Hatch five-piece orchestra furnished a fine program of dances. The party lasted until one o'clock this morning.

Forty of the Catholic young ladies of this city have organized a social club which will meet once a month. The first meeting was held at East Side I. O. O. F. hall last evening and was in the nature of a Halloween party. The committee in charge consisted of the Misses Catherine Crowley, Rose Gagan, Phoebe Cunningham, Mayme Blunk, Josephine Fitzgerald, Geneva Flynn, Nellie Quirk, Mayme Hunsigan and Josephine Dooley.

Miss Lucille Hyde entertained the members of the Delta Sigma society at a "Halloween (?) Party" at her home, 502 South Third street, last evening. The guests arrived in time for an elaborate supper and stayed all night.

R. B. C. M. Club.

Miss Rosa Britt entertained the R. B. C. M. Club and friends at a Halloween party at her home on Cherry street last evening. About twenty young people were present and a most jolly time was spent with Halloween games. Refreshments were served.

Young People's Social.

The members of the Young People's Society of the Baptist church enjoyed a social last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilkerson, 471 Glen street. The party was held in the attic and all kinds of Halloween games were played.

A merry party of young folks gathered at the home of Ernest Knapp, 1214 West bluff street last evening, where Miss Elsie Schumacher was hostess at a Halloween party.

Miss Irene Tanberg was hostess last evening to the ten young ladies that comprise the Triolo D Club. Her home, 310 North bluff street, was most tastefully decorated with pumpkins and autumn foliage and typical Halloween games were enjoyed.

Miss Edna Gerloff gave a Halloween party to a number of her friends last Saturday evening. The usual Halloween amusements were enjoyed and a delightful supper was served.

ALL SAINTS' DAY IS A MEMORABLE EVENT

Catholic and Episcopal Churches Observe It With Special Services—Marka Epoch in Christian Era.

Today is All Saints' Day, a day which takes its origin from the conversion, in the seventh century, of the pantheon at Rome into a Christian place of worship, and its dedication by Pope Boniface IV, to the virgin and all the martyrs. The anniversary of this event was celebrated at first on the 1st day of May, but the day was subsequently altered to the first of November, which was thenceforth, under the designation of the feast of all saints, set apart as a general commemoration in their honor. The festival has been retained by the anglican church.

APPEAL FROM AWARD OF COMMISSIONERS

In Interurban Condemnation of Right-of-way in Front of Murdoch Property on Trial Today.

The circuit court jury trying the action brought by C. H. Wikom against Isaac Elliot to recover on a $200 promissory note this morning returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

A jury consisting of John C. Eddy, Walter Holmes, E. H. Ellingson, W. L. Paul, John Godfrey, Frank Miller, E. E. Gabriel, Knute Logan, Ziba Naugle, H. O. Anderson, Seth Crall, and B. C. Hanson was empaneled to try Floyd Murdoch's appeal from the $750 award made by the commissioners in the matter of the Rockford, Beloit & Delavan Lake Interurban railroad condemnation proceedings.

The attorneys are William Smith and Charles Heron representing Mr. Murdoch and Thomas E. Nolan, representing the Interurban railroad. C. S. Jackson was the first witness put on the stand by Mr. Nolan. In his opinion the presence of a street railroad raised the rental of property on Milwaukee and South Main streets. The jury viewed the Murdoch premises just before noon.

STRANGER STRICKEN BESIDE THE TRACKS

Bernard McDonald of Pennsylvania Found in Weakened Condition and Thought Dying by Switchmen.

Bernard McDonald, a stranger who says his home is in Pennsylvania, was picked up alongside the freight house track of the Northwestern road at ten o'clock this morning by members of a switch crew working in the railroad yards. The switchmen thought the man was dying and carried him onto the platform where water was sent to the police station to Chief Appleby who sent for the ambulance. The man had been around the yards this morning and a few minutes before asked the men who picked him up for a drink of water, saying he was all in. They thought he had been drinking and told him to go to the fountain near the Five Points. When they next saw him he was lying on the ground beating his head against his breast over his heart. He was examined by Dr. Fred H. Welch and E. F. Woods. His affliction, it is thought, was due to dilatation of the heart, excessive drinking having caused the heart to relax when the stimulant was not supplied. McDonald was taken to the hospital. It is thought that no serious effects will follow his attack.

Nauseous Physic.
Tar water was a cure-all in the eighteenth century. It was prepared by pouring a gallon of water on a quart of tar, and the dose was half a pint in the morning and a second glass in the afternoon. Its use became so fashionable that a contemporary noted: "It is as common to call for a glass of tar water in a coffee house as a dish of tea or coffee."

MORMON OFFICIALS ORDER

THAT POLYGAMY CEASE

Church Gives First Definite Command That Followers Shall Obey Law of Country.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 1.—Orders have been issued by high officials of the Mormon church that there shall be no more polygamous marriages.

Francis M. Lyman, president of the quorum of the twelve apostles, who is next in succession to the presidency of Joseph F. Smith, warned all Mormons that any violation of this order would subject the actor to wrath of the church.

"In giving the manifesto to the church," he said, "President Wilford Woodruff presented the will of God. It was a binding on the church as any written revelation, and we are bound by it. It is as if God said to himself, 'Some of our brethren who were not satisfied with the manifesto have gone outside and over the law, and they have offended God in doing so.'"

"There is not a man on earth today possessing the authority to perform plural marriages. We want every one of you to clearly understand this, the apostles particularly. Plural marriages are unlawful and unlawful now. We doubt the constitutionality of the laws; but they have been tested and sustained in the courts and we must obey them."

Leigh Rhodus, the Man Who Killed Dr. Michaelis Says He Wanted to Rob Him.
Owing to the fact that Dr. W. D. Michaelis, of Englewood, Illinois, who was shot down and murdered last summer, is a brother of Dr. M. A. Michaelis, of this city, Janesville people are interested in the tale of the young murderer who was recently captured at East St. Louis and has confessed to his brutal crime. Under the police name of the "Candy Kid," Leigh Rhodus, has confessed to a series of crimes during the past few years which he admits were all committed for the purpose of raising money that his bride might enjoy life. His confession led to the murder of Dr. Michaelis, a most cold blooded he told the police he shot him down and on questioning stated:

"Yes, I shot him," said Rhodus, with the air of a man who had brought down a bird at long range. "I saw a big diamond ring on his hand. When we met I pulled my gun and ordered him to throw up his hands. He kept his hands by his pockets and, believing he had a gun, I shot him in self-defense."

"I got my neck cracked sure for that," Rhodus was arrested while he was having supper with his wife at their home in East St. Louis. Three detectives rushed in with pistols leveled at him.

"You've got me," said the "Candy Kid" calmly. "There's no use bluffing; I'll go quietly."

OPENING CONTEST
WON BY CARDINALS

Lakota Cardinals Defeated Evansville Y. M. C. A. Basketball Five 34 to 12 Last Evening.
In a rather one-sided game, in which Janesville scored too often to make the contest really exciting, the Lakota Cardinals defeated the Evansville Y. M. C. A. in the opening game of the season at the West Side Athletic building last evening 34 to 12.

The Evansville lineup was not as announced and though some predicted before the match that Evansville, because of their weak practice, would win, the Cut-Off squad could not deliver the goods. The contest started off with a rush, and the crowd became enthusiastic during the first few minutes of play. Evansville secured the ball after the toss up and rushed it down near the Janesville goal but the Cardinals took it away from them and in the first minute of play had scored on a field basket thrown by Langdon. The Cardinals made fourteen points in the first half and Evansville four. In the second half the local players increased their score by 20 and their opponents secured eight points. Kilmor took Robertson's place in the last half. The lineup: Lakota Cardinals: Bennett, c; Langdon, rf; Robertson, lf; Kilmor, lf; Cunningham, rf; Green, lg. Evansville: Lee, c; Turner, rf; Bonser, lf; Abitz, rf; Ware, lg; Townsend, substitute.

She was a charter member of the society of Royal Neighbors when it was organized fifteen years ago, and has always remained a faithful member. Owing to her illness the past two years she has been unable to be present, but her heart was centered in the progress of the society. She has passed to the other shore, but blessed memories of her still remain with us.

Neither made a move to take the seat, but each glanced at the other in a haughty manner, as much as to say, "Sit down, madam!"

But by this time Pete was recovering to some degree. "What've you got to say about this?" he demanded crossly.

"I'll show you," Duncan told him in the same quiet voice, "what I've got to say if you'll just put the soft pedal on and tell me the amount of that note."

"With interest and costs," he said less stridently, "it figures up three hundred 'n' eighty dollars 'n' eighty-two cents."

There's no use denying that Duncan was staggered. For the moment his poles deserted him utterly. He could only repeat, as one who dreams, "Three hundred and eighty dollars!"

His momentary consternation afforded Pete the opening he needed. The room shook with his regained sense of prestige.

"Yes, three hundred 'n' eighty dollars 'n'— Say, you look a-bore!"

Again the calm forefinger touched him and like a hypnotist's pass checked the rolling volume of noise. "Listen," begged Duncan, "if you've got anything else to tell me please retire to the opposite side of the street and whisper it. Monks be quiet!"

Duncan turned and made for the soda counter, beneath which was the till. His security roll-of-bills was in his right hand and there concealed, he stepped behind the counter told Sam watching him with an amazement no less absolute than Pete's, pulled out the till, bent over it with an assured air and pushed back the coin slide. Then quite naturally he produced with his right hand his four hundred and

He smiled winningly at Pete. "Four hundred dollars, Mr. Sheriff. Now will you be good enough to hand over that note and the change and then put yourself and that pickle you're wearing in your face on the other side of the door!"

"I ain't got the note with me, Mr. Duncan."

"Then perhaps you won't mind going to the bank for it?"

Half suffocated, Pete assented. "Aw' right, I'll go and get it. Kin I have the money?"

"Certainly," Duncan extended the bills, then on second thought withheld them. "I presume you're a regular shortie?" he inquired.

Very proudly Pete turned back the lapel of his coat and displayed the chest on which shone his nickel plated badge of office. Duncan examined it with grave admiration.

"It's beautiful," he said, with a sigh. "Here."

Gingerly Pete grasped the bills, thumbed them over to make sure they were real and bolted as for his life, his coat tails level on the breeze. There floated back to Duncan and old Sam his valedictory, "Waal, I'll be dodgified!"

With a short, quiet laugh Duncan made as though to go out to the back yard, where the new stock was being delivered.

"I'm going," he said hurriedly, "to find me a hatchet and knock the stuffing out of some of those packing cases. Want to get all that truck indoors before nightfall, you know."

But old Sam wasn't to be put off by any such obvious subterfuge as that. He put himself in front of Duncan.

"Nat, my boy," he said, tremulous, "I can't let this go through. I can't allow you!"

"There, now," Duncan told him unconcernedly, yet kindly, "don't say anything more. It's over and done with."

"But you mustn't. I'll turn over the store to you!"

"O Lord!" Duncan's dismay was as genuine as his desire to escape Graham's gratitude. "No—don't! Please don't do that!"

"But I must do something, my boy. I can't accept so great a kindness unless," said Graham, with a timid flash of hope, "you'll consider a partnership!"

"That's it!" cried Duncan, glad of any way out of the situation. "That's the way to do it—a partnership. No, please don't say any more about it just now. We can settle details later. We've got to get busy. Tell you what I wish you'd do while I'm bursting open those boxes. If you don't mind going down to the station to make sure that everything's—"

"Yes, I'll go; I'll go at once!" Sam groped for Duncan's hand, caught and held it between both his own. "If fate or something hadn't brought you here today I don't know what would have happened to Betty and me."

"Never mind," Duncan tried to soothe him. "Just don't you think about it."

Graham shook his head, still bewildered. "Perhaps," he stammered, "to a gentleman of your wealth $400 isn't much!"

"No," said Duncan gravely, without the flicker of an eyelash, "nothing." He remembered well the few dollars that now represented all his worldly goods. Then he smiled cheerfully. "There, that's all right."

"To me it's meant everything. I—I only hope I'll be able to repay you some day. God bless you, my boy! God bless you!"

He managed to jam his hat awry on his white old head and find his way out, his hands fumbling with one another, his lips moving inaudibly, perhaps in a prayer of thanksgiving.

It was perhaps within the next thirty minutes that Betty (who had been left in charge of the store while Duncan, with coat and collar off and sleeves rolled above his elbows, hunched and pounded and pried and banged at the packing cases in the back yard) sought him on the scene of his indoors.

"Pretty good work for a York dude—not?" he laughed.

There was a shadowy smile in her grave eyes. "It's an improvement," she said evenly.

He shot her a curious glance. "Ouch!" he said thoughtfully.

"I just came to tell you," he went on, again inaudibly, "you're wanted inside."

"Somebody wants to see me?" he demanded of her retreating back.

"Yes."

"But who?"

"Blinky Lockwood," she replied over her shoulder as she went into the house.

"Lockwood?" He speculated, for an instant puzzled, then suddenly "Father-in-law!" he cried. "Shivering snakes, he mustn't catch me like this—I, a business man!"

He rolled down his shirt sleeves and shrugging himself into his coat, he made for the store, buttoning his collar and knotting his tie on the way.

He found Blinky nosing round the room, quite alone. Betty had disappeared, and the old scoundrel was having quite an enjoyable time poking into matters that did not concern him and disapproving of them on general principles. So far as the improvements concerned old Sam Graham's fortunes, Blinky would concede no health in them. But with regard to Duncan there was another story to tell. Duncan apparently controlled money to some vague extent.

"You're Mr. Duncan, ain't you?" he asked, with his leer, moving down to meet Nat.

"Yes, sir. Mr. Lockwood, I believe?"

"That's me," Blinky clutched his hand in a genial claw. "I'm glad to meet you."

"Thank you," said Duncan. "Something I can do for you, sir?"

"Waal, Pete Willis' was tellin' me you'd just took up this note of Graham's?"

"Not exactly. The firm took it up."

Blinky winked, sagaciously, at this.

"Free Soap Week" Will Soon Be Here

Think of it! For one whole week we are going to give away a 10c cake of Palmolive Soap. We can afford to do this because we know that once you try Palmolive Soap you will never be satisfied with any other.

Watch for Details!

This great offer will be made you within a few days. In the meanwhile we are going to tell you something more about Galvanic Soap, the famous WHITE laundry soap. Galvanic Soap makes clothes whiter and cleaner than any other soap. Washing will never be a pleasure to any woman, but Galvanic Soap brings it as close to that as mortal man can make it.

Galvanic Soap banishes the burdens of wash-day, doing twice the work of other soaps with one-half the labor.

Over 1,000,000 women use Galvanic Soap. Think what this vast army of women means. We do not believe that you could get one of these women to go back to the old soap.

Galvanic Soap is "their" soap.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.

COMPLEX DIET AND CANCER

Eating a great variety of food at a meal is a habit that has grown rapidly as the facilities for transportation of foods have grown. Fifty years ago four-fifths of the people ate but two or three articles of food at a meal, as a large proportion still do in Germany, Ireland and other European countries. While mortality from diseases in general has steadily decreased, that from cancer has steadily increased. The liability of the Irish, Scandinavian and German immigrant to cancer is much higher in this country than in his native country, because of the increase in the complexity of his diet, although Munich, Berlin, Copenhagen and Amsterdam have higher death rates than Chicago. The Italian, Greek and Russian immigrant incurs no increased liability, because his diet remains about the same.

St. Elmo's Fire.

St. Elmo's fire is a peculiar condition of low electric intensity in the atmosphere, such as often occurs in fair weather, when by supposed induction and insulation, pointed objects projecting high above surrounding objects become surcharged with the electric fluid, and a brush-discharge takes place, without audible noise, but with a feeble luminous glow. It has been observed on spires, on the masts and spars of ships.

Books by the Mile.

There are about 25 miles of books in the British museum, and volumes are added at the rate of about 50,000 a year.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVES FAIL.
In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't tamper with the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and this encourages them to multiply. WASH THE GERMS OUT.
A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief. J. P. HAKER, Janesville, Wis.
